

SAM SPRATT - GIZMODO

Steven Paul Jobs was an American computer entrepreneur and inventor that passed away on October 5, 2011. Write an essay about him including his inventions and how they changed society. If there is a specific invention that changed your life personally, include a picture of the specific product and explain how your life is different. In addition to the essay, your assignment needs to include a picture of Mr. Jobs and either the invention that changed your life or another product that he invented.

Assignment due on or before October 13, 2011